

LINNAEA HARRISON

MA, CPHR

Senior Manager, Organizational Development

A high-functioning and driven professional, Linnaea's ability to see the big picture is her guiding force.

BRIGHT WIRE

Linnaea uses her organizational, business, and managerial chops to help steer and propel both herself and the rest of the Bright Wire team towards success. Having spent more than a decade working in human resources, she has become a specialist in HR facilitation, organizational structures, and conflict management.

In her current role, she is responsible for policy and process development, project management, client engagement, and supporting the coaching team with leadership programs and change management strategies. Throughout her career, her focus has extended to business development, brand management, and executive training and talent performance.

Before Bright Wire, Linnaea worked in a variety of industries including construction, health services, and nonprofit in capacities ranging from marketing to talent and resource planning. In addition to her day job, Linnaea remains active in her community, serving as a founding committee member of the local charity Tiny Footprints, and volunteering with Light Up the World (LUTW).
